Jalan Santai & Sports Day 2011

Mr Michael attempts to avoid a parent

Mr David supporting Cambridge students during Jalan Santai

The day had started early with Jalan Santai. A walk around the neighbourhood which this year took a new and interesting route.

On their return to school, students and teachers were put through their paces with a stimulating aerobics routine.

After a short rest Sports Day started: The four school teams of Lincoln, Tolstoy, Tagore and Kartini competed in our traditional events of basketball, futsal, tug of war and running competitions.

Despite the heat of the day everyone gave maximum effort.

Parents also took part in events with highly competitive matches against our teachers.

Everyone had a fun time either participating or cheering on their team!

17th August - Indonesian Independence Day

The first Indonesian independence day was on 17th August 1945. It was the day Indonesia won against the Dutch colonists. With Indonesia officially becoming acknowledged as an independent country in 1949.

At Taman Rama, we had a flag raising ceremony which also included a recital of the "Pancasila" and showed our respect to those who fought in the independence war. We listened to a summary of a letter from the Department of Education and sang the national anthem.

Everyone came together for one hour and showed respect for the country

Warning about Hoax Phone Calls

A number of Taman Rama parents have reported that they have received telephone calls informing them that a family member has been involved in a serious accident and that money needs to be transferred immediately.

Such telephone calls are fraudulent attempts to gain bank account details and should be ignored.

If parents are concerned about their children during school hours - Please call us on 361 414849 and ask to speak to the Cambridge / Cambridge Primary secretary.

Bobo Magazine Award Winner

She may only be in Year 6 right now, but Patricia is a very accomplished individual. She had recently won a competition held by Bobo magazine, a magazine which she reads frequently.

Patricia has a whole document containing all the different competitions she had won in the past. This notable collection includes the essays she has written, some drawings as well as photographs she had submitted to National Geographic Kids.

A pattern she noticed on all the competitions she had won was that they all had something relating to the environment, which is a rising concern in our society today. Obviously, the judges over at Bobo magazine found all of Patricia's achievements to be very impressive.

Patricia was not expecting to win, so when Bobo gave her mum a call to deliver the news, she was very excited. For those of you interested, be sure to pick up a copy of the magazine to see where Patricia is featured.

Well done Patricia, and keep up the good work! - By Santhi Weiss / Photo by Lita

Ramadan

Ramadan returns for 2011. Muslim people all around the world welcome the holy month of Ramadan; the month of blessing and greatness. The month of Ramadan is the glorious month in which the gate of heaven is open wide, and the gate of hell has been closed really tight.

Holiness is our guest during Ramadan, that comes to everyone with different privileges. The focus of Ramadan has good benefits for all Muslims. This month is different then all other months because during this month of Ramadan we have a special consideration towards our faith. We are conscious of our actions and considerate of others. So, all Muslim people around the world should not miss the joy of the holy month of Ramadan.

School Library - Open for Business

After extensive renovations during emester break the new school library is finally open for business. Located on the first floor above the front canteen the new consolidated library will serve students from across the school and has areas designated for primary and senior students.

New books, including many recommended titles for young learners, have been ordered and students are encouraged to pop in and sign out something to read.
